

Youth Activities Report

November 2023

I hope everyone is preparing to do something special to honor our Veterans this month. This is a perfect time to include our youth in our activities. Whether you're having a parade, a supper, or a program make sure you involve youth in it.

This is a great month to give books for Patriotism Through Literacy. There are a lot of books for different ages to learn about our veterans and what Veteran's Day is about.

Joyce Caldwell, National youth Activities Ambassador, suggests supporting our youth by purchasing items that youth are selling to raise money for their activities, trips, uniforms, and other supplies. She also suggests supporting our schools by purchasing supplies or adopting a classroom. The younger elementary youth have reading time, and you could volunteer by reading to them and then donating that book to their library.

Continue to promote our youth contests, such as Get Excited for the Red, White, and Blue and Illustrating America.

Thank you for all the work you do for our youth and getting reports to me.
